

FOR BETTER PERFORMANCE

The performance of an engine tuned to perfection differs greatly with one that is just slightly out of key. In spite of the familiarity of most motorists with this fact, many car owners will tolerate the waste resulting from poorly adjusted valves, incorrect timing, maladjusted spark plugs, and sluggish performance due to inefficient carburetor adjustments. At a low cost, these flaws may be corrected for better engine performance.

SAVING OF FEED URGED; CULLING OF HENS ASKED

The backyarder can help save feed for commercial production of eggs and poultry. Many backyard poultry flocks are inefficient, believes C. V. Castle, farm advisor in Los Angeles county, because there are more hens proportionately in them which do not lay eggs than are tolerated in well-managed commercial flocks. Whether they lay or don't lay they require feed, and feed is scarce. Reduce your backyard flock to just enough to satisfy your family needs by culling. Keep only good layers. The same thought applies to a backyard rabbitry or to a porker or a milk cow. Another caution he voices is not to get a pig or a cow for a backyard raising unless you definitely have the feed on hand because it is hard to find.

Hope For Home Building Seen By L.A. Leader

Returning from the National Association of Home Builders convention in Chicago, M. J. Brock, prominent Los Angeles builder and newly-elected treasurer of the association, today threw a ray of hope on the Southland's muddled building program.

"I see hope," he said, "if the priority assistance as outlined in the Wyatt program for veteran housing is carried out."

He referred to the priority plan devised by Federal Housing Inspector Wilson W. Wyatt, to channel sorely needed materials into the field of small home construction for veterans.

"If we get the assistance that Wyatt told us about at the convention, it will help us meet our home building goal in Southern California. In Los Angeles county alone, there is a need for 200,000 new dwelling units."

"If government assistance is speeded up to facilitate immediate construction, our local housing program will swing into high gear," he said.

"We in Southern California must build for the returning veterans. Our efforts must not be retarded. Before the war we were building at the rate of 50,000 homes a year. With the government's cooperation we can better that record and within two years meet the country's housing requirements."

Brock, who also is president of the Construction Industries Exposition and Home Show of Southern California which is to be held in the Pan Pacific Auditorium July 12 to 21, added:

"National attention is focussed on the Los Angeles show following the announcement that the association's executive committee has scheduled its next annual meeting in Los Angeles to coincide with the Home Show dates. The show will be a powerful impetus to building here generally."

'Jobs For All' Contest Of Legion Opens

Thirteen cash awards totaling $2500, with a top prize of $1000, are being offered by The American Legion for the best essays on "Jobs for All," according to James Brodie, Torrance commander.

The contest opens March 15 and closes April 30, 1946. Essays must not exceed 3000 words.

An outgrowth of The American Legion's national employment conference, the contest is designed to develop new ideas on the best ways and means of achieving the Legion's maximum employment program. That program calls for 55,000,000 post-war jobs. Of these, 7,000,000 are to be created in the undeveloped fields of distribution, sales and service.

Second prize will be $500; third, $250; there will be five prizes of $100 each and five more of $50 each.

Contest Rules

National American Legion Employment, Chairman Lawrence J. Fenlon, of Chicago, Ill., has announced the following contest rules:

1. Essays must suggest how best the Legion's programs for maximum employment and veterans' employment can be carried out.
2. Everybody except paid employees of the American Legion is eligible to enter the contest.
3. Essays must be typed, double-spaced, not exceed 3000 words, and be submitted in quadruplicate to the Employment Division, The American Legion, 1608 K st., N. W., Washington 6, D. C.
4. The contest opens March 15 and closes April 30, 1946.
5. Three nationally-known leaders in the employment field will serve as judges.

Contestants may obtain copies of The American Legion's program for maximum employment and veterans' employment by writing to national headquarters, 777 No. Meridian st., Indianapolis 6, Ind., or to the Washington Legion office, or to any Legion state headquarters.

Vincent Thomas Files Papers For His Fourth Term

Assemblyman Vincent Thomas has filed his declaration of intention to seek a fourth term as 68th district representative. He will seek re-election on both democratic and republican tickets.

Thomas said he will open an office in April and will base his campaign on further harbor development. He said he advocates full use of the dollar for dollar matching fund, under which the state will pay $1 for every $1 a county spends on harbor development. The measure is now before the governor for his signature. He also will campaign on a program for state and county development of moorings for fish boats here.

Illegal Deer Meat Possession Costs Oregon Hunters

Illegal possession of deer meat and possession of female deer taken in California cost six Klamath Falls, Oregon, men $1,842.20 last month, according to reports reaching headquarters of the Bureau of Patrol of the California Fish and Game.

The deer were killed in the Lava Beds National Monument area in Northern California and were recovered by three Oregon State Police in Klamath Falls.

OPA HAS RIGHT TO INSPECT BOOKS, NINTH COURT SAYS

The OPA has a right to inspect a company's books. This is the decision of Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals reversing a lower court decision.

The Ninth Court's decision, moreover, does not go into the issue on which U. S. District Judge Claude McCulloch of Portland, Oregon, ruled that OPA did not have authority to delegate its power of subpoena, and therefore could not have access to the books of the company in question.

LOOK to Greyhound first for PUBLIC RESPONSIBILITY

The people of Southern California expect the best of Greyhound.

This is as it should be. For when this Company undertook, and performed, the job of building a modern, first-class local transportation system for the communities of Southern California, it also accepted, without reservation, the great responsibility that goes with providing a vital public service.

On the strength of its outstanding leadership and its established record of performance, people have a right to expect Greyhound to be the first in everything connected with bus transportation. Greyhound believes that it has lived up to these expectations . . . that it has provided its deep sense of public responsibility. If this were not so, people would not now confidently expect so much of this company.

Greyhound can be relied upon to continue to justify your confidence. It is part of your community . . . and proud of it.
